For Congress.

JAS. A. MCKENZIE,
OF CHRISTIAN.

The Democratic cock skinned the Republican cock in Maine after all.

Gov. Husted will take the stump for Hancock in Maine and will make six speeches in Indiana.

The whole State of Indiana is red hot with excitement. Republicans have ceased to back their judgment with money.

The things upon the fall of the animal probably suggested to the Louisville Commercial the idea of representing the Republican party by a donkey. The party is a party of rings, and likewise good at stealing.

The centennial anniversary of the capture of Major André, was celebrated at Tarrytown N. Y., on the 23rd. 30,000 people were in attendance and the meeting was presided over by Sam'l J. Tilden.

The Democratic party of Virginia is still acting like a set of fools. They held a meeting last week between the two factions and adjourned without effecting a compromise. They have now two electoral tickets in the field and if they are both allowed to remain the success of the party in that State will be jeopardized. There now seems to be little hope of a compromise, and the Republicans are elated. It behooves the National Committee to look into the matter and see that the vote of the State, be not thrown away by a senseless division.

The editor of the Multienberg Echo continues to say discouraging things about Mr. Waterson. We think the press of the State, ought to petition Mr. Woodson to let up, and give the young man a chance. He is striving hard to rise in the world and build up his paper, the Courier-Journal, and we think his father and more experienced contemporary ought to be with him some what, and help him with his advice, instead of trying to crush him out. Now don't be hard on the young fellow, Urey, and in this journalistic field at all.

After all the bluster of the Republicans the Fusion candidate, Plinfield was elected Governor of Maine by plurality, of 190 votes. Over 147,000 votes were cast for the two tickets. This, while it is not a victory for the Democrats, is a decided defeat for the Republicans. Plinfield is a Greenbacker but the Democrats preferred him to the Republican and therefore united on him as they had no hope of electing a man themselves. A Fusion electoral ticket consisting of three Hancock men and four Weaver men has been put out and so Maine's vote will be divided between the Democrats and Greenbackers. The Republican solid North is broken and the tide comes sweeping on. The election of Plinfield will be contested in January, at the meeting of the Legislature and he will probably be counted out. But it will be too late to help Mr. Garfield. His goose will soon be cooked.

The Danville Tribune has a large picture representing soldiers in blue armed with muskets and munitions of war, beneath which is the following: "The boys in blue, solid and true. Their mission plain, to carry Maine. And, despite Ingrates, the United States."

We suppose this means that they propose to do with arms what cannot be done with the ballot. "We don't believe the sensible portion of the Republican party, endorses the course of the slavert fools of the Tribune. If its leaders do they can just let themselves in and they will find the Democrats prepared for every emergency. They not only have a majority in both houses but they have a man at their head who will submit to any foolishness and go to fighting he is generally

Give us More Enthusiasm.

Kentucky has not waked up to the importance of this crisis in the history of the country. The Democratic party is so sure to carry this State, that the people don't seem to take any interest in the election at all. We want more enthusiasm. We want to hear a few old genuine Democratic yells reverberate through the hills and valleys of Kentucky. We certainly have a ticket that ought to inspire enthusiasm. We have every advantage in the fight. Just look at the party leaders for a moment. The Republicans have men weighed down with Credit Mobilier imbric, De Golyer pavements, salary grabs, perjury, bribery, dishonesty, and every species of corruption peculiar to the Republican party. The Democrats, have nominated men who, like Caesar's wife, are above reproach in every respect. Unstained with any disreputable odor. They are men of brain and eminently fitted to fill the offices. It is true that every Democrat did not see "his first choice nominated, but what difference does it make after all; so we have a good man? It is a fight for party and principles and not simply for the elevation of the man. Look back in a few months at the manner in which the two tickets were put in the field and judge for yourself which side began the campaign under the most auspicious circumstances. At Chicago we saw the Republicans wrangling and contending among themselves for more than a week, each aspirant backed by a handful of followers, each like the petty principalities of the mountainous regions of the old world, determined never to yield. We saw the stubborn fight the 306 Grant men made, and saw them go down only when all the rest had united against them, and a man was nominated who to day has not the respect of a large portion of his own party. We have seen numbers of influential and prominent Republicans quit their places in the corrupt ranks of their party, and come over to the party of reform and civil supremacy. We have seen all these things and now turn and look upon the other side of the picture.

Follow Democrats, we were present when the National convention at Cincinnati nominated Gen. Hancock. We saw the unanimity with which it was done. We saw how every one made his personal preferences subservient to party success and heard the shouts of approbation that followed the action of the convention. There was victory in that shout. We heard the whoop of the Tammany section and the shouts of the Irving Hall Democrats mingled into one glad outburst of enthusiastic acclamation. We saw the Democrats from the North, the South, the East, the West, from every section of this grand union unite their voices in a roar of applause that was a prelude of victory. There was no untaking that shout. It meant victory and victory we will have. There was no dissension, no wrangling, no disaffection. All was done in peace and unity; and the result was greeted with a cheer of enthusiasm that went up from every throat in that vast assembly. It pierced the vaulted roof above and echoed and re-echoed throughout the corridors of the magnificent building. Nor did it stop here, it was taken up by the crowd without and carried from mouth to mouth, until that shout was heard throughout the whole city of Cincinnati. That same wave of enthusiasm rolled, on and continues to roll. It was carried to the cotton fields of Alabama and rolled up a Democratic majority of 75,000. It was carried to the mountains of Vermont, where the sun of Democracy seldom shines and even there it cut down the Republican minority 5000 votes. It was carried to Arkansas, beyond the Mississippi, and there too Democratic victory followed in its wake. It was carried to the pine hills of Maine, the home of the greatest Republican statesman (?) and there, too, followed a Republican defeat that astonished the natives. And it has not yet stopped, but is rolling on, gathering volume as it goes. It is even now shaking the bloated States to its very center and there too by the help of God and the modest students (?) victory will surely be won.

Gov. Cornell, of New York, is seriously ill with malaria fever. Smallpox is raging in Canada as an epidemic. Jesse Grant, youngest son of the ex-president, was married to Miss Lizzie Chapman, in San Francisco on the 22nd.

Hooperston, Ill., Sept. 23—A very fine skeleton of a mastodon has been found in a peat bed on the farm of John Guttridge. The tusks are nine feet long, twenty-six inches in circumference and weigh 175 pounds each. The lower jaw-bone is three feet in length and well preserved. The teeth also are perfect, of dark pearl color, twenty-one inches in circumference, and one weighs eight pounds. The bones were only three feet below the surface.

The Fusion ticket will be elected in Maine in November. This will give Weaver 4 and Hancock 3 votes. The solid North is broken. Hancock will carry New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut, with an equal chance in Pennsylvania, Ohio, California and Colorado. Goodbye Jim.

Capt. Marcum, of the Democrat is disaffected with the name of Callettsburg and wants a change of name. He suggests Ken-o-van-on in its right in the corner. In a stone throw of three States, Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia. The name would be novel and appropriate.

The "Star in the West" an organ of the Universalist church which has been published continuously at Chicago, since 1827, has just suspended publication.

"It Seems as if Things Had Been Mixed."

The battle of Gettysburg was fought on the rebel side, mainly by Longstreet's troops. This eminent confederate is now drawing the comfortable salary of $7,500 as Mr. Hayes, minister to Turkey. Means while the Union soldier who won the battle at Gettysburg and saved Pennsylvania and the north from invasion is being denounced by the republican press as a traitor and rebel sympathizer. Somehow it seems as if things had been mixed.

A Campaign Life.

We are surprised to see a paper like the Louisville Commercial take the position that the success of the Democratic party, means the re-enslavement of the negroes. Nothing else could be expected of the Danville Tribune and sheets of that ilk, but we had given the Commercial credit for having more sense. As the matter stands the Commercial must stand convicted of ignorance or willful misrepresentation. The charge is absurd and contemptible in the extreme. Gen. Hancock pledges himself in his letter of acceptance to stand by and carry out the three amendments to the constitution on the subject. There is not a single Democratic leader who would desire or even think of such a thing. The past is forever forgotten and the South desires it to be buried and her people to live for the future. This is one of the desperate campaign dodges of the Republicans to scare the negroes. Of course they know that no white man with three grains of sense will believe such stuff. There will come a time when the negro will see who are his friends. Four years from this time he will know more about Democrats, and Democratic administration of National affairs. Where in the North has any State done as much for the negro of late years as here in Democratic Kentucky? He has his vote, his schools and his rights, which he is allowed to exercise undisturbed. He is allowed to sit upon juries and in every respect enjoys the same rights, that white people do, except that of social equality. Here in this State, the white people help them to build their churches and school houses and in many ways prove themselves to be their friends. Away with such bosh as putting them back into slavery. It is a lie of the Republicans and one that the better class of their journals ought to scour to circulate.

It is generally conceded that Garfield will carry Iowa and one or two of the extreme northern States.

Mr. Kelly and Mr. R. Fellows, of New York, will stump Indiana together.

LAFAYETTE.

For several days past the cool breezy mornings and pleasant evenings suggested the approach of that season so beautifully depicted by Wm. Cullen Bryant in his ode to the flowers, which is as familiar as household words to all, both in rhythm and sentiment. This season suggests to us also a country village, the absence of a town hall, the absence of a town hall, and if prepared, we might this fall and winter enjoy many a pleasant lecture or entertainment, from which we are debarred, because of this want of accommodation.

The only break of any importance in our monotonous existence lately has been the excitement and rejoicing over our Democratic victory in the State of Maine. Hardly to be expected yet none the less appreciated for that Hancock and English are coming daily more surely to the front, and there is many a doubting Thomas, as to the successful termination of a decided Democratic victory in the coming November.

"Our Club," composed chiefly of home talent design giving some a dramatic entertainment, but the recent epidemic in the Twin Spring bed movement, has been so fatal and come so near depopulating our town, that we have concluded to deter the entertainment until later in the season.

ABROAD.

Too much rain for tobacco and wheat crop to progress evenly.

Farmers generally about through housing tobacco, and right smart of the weed is stripped and ready for market.

Some frost not long since, but none to do any damage, so far.

The corn crop is unusually good, and tobacco is much better than appearances indicated during the summer.

There is considerable immigration and emigration this fall. Land is cheap, personal effects low, and a good many are coming in to settle.

Already long trains of moving wagons may be seen wending their way toward the setting sun, and from the excessive proportion of such, one would infer a machine for making juvenile aspirants to Texas notoriety were somewhere in the East.

The Greenback here is dead as a door nail, so to speak, and having as a doctor said in the jubilee banner of Hancock and English.

Some one accuses us of being a greenbacker. All we have to say on the subject is, that we are not madder than the Greenback and Dr. Garfield, but we had voted Green we wouldn't try to squint out of it by accusing some one else of voting Brown.

Our heart swells within our bosom when we look to the brilliant victory of the Greenback man, grimly would we could a thousand for him, never a one against him. Freely would we live and firmly would we die by the good old reliable Democratic doctrine, and we would see it perpetuated beyond the grave into eternity, and yet, all things considered, we would bid the many worthy correspondents and the most excellent South Kentuckian an eternal farewell.

Tribute of Respect.

At a called meeting of Pembroke Lodge No. 238 F. A. M. September 22nd 1880. Bro. J. H. Bragg, M. G. Miller and A. H. Bragg, for the committee to draft resolutions upon the death of our venerable brother, Dr. John T. Grubbs, M. M. reported as follows, which was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That our loss is his gain.

Resolved, That he has departed full of years and of hours, and that we have been truly and justly proud to have known him.

Resolved, That his death is a loss to the community, a loss to the family of a devoted friend, and his family a devoted friend, and his family a devoted friend.

Resolved, That we wear the usual badge of mourning thirty days.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, furnished the New Era and South Kentuckian, and any copy sent to the family of our deceased brother.

Wonderful Cures.

MADE BY THE USE OF
DR. RAGLAND'S
"Lightning Relief."

Brownsville, Tenn., Nov. 8, 1879.
Dr. J. B. Ragland, Jackson, Tenn.: I wish to state, for the benefit of those who suffer with Rheumatism, that I have suffered with the most excruciating pain in the most violent form, for two months, and have been treated by the best medical men in Jackson, without relief. I was induced to try Dr. Ragland's "Lightning Relief," which made me feel better in a few minutes. I have not since had a return of the pain, and I have not been able to walk as usual. I have had no return since, though it has been a month ago. Very respectfully, H. B. POLK.

Cure of Rheumatism in Christian County.
Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 18, 1879. I testify that I have been suffering with Rheumatism of the spinal column for more than twelve months, and have been treated by several physicians without any relief. I was induced to try Dr. Ragland's "Lightning Relief," which made me feel better in a few minutes. I have not since had a return of the pain, and I have not been able to walk as usual. I have had no return since, though it has been a month ago. Very respectfully, W. M. MORAR.

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

HOPKINSVILLE, SEPT. 28, 1890.

SOCIALITIES.

Mr. M. Haas has returned from the East.

Messrs. M. Gant and J. M. Ellis have returned from New York.

Mr. M. Frankel has returned from purchasing goods.

Ed. Galtier attended the theater Saturday night.

Prof. Rust expects to make a brief visit to Henderson this week.

Miss Lula Watkins, of Montgomery, was in the city one day last week.

Mr. Will Hawks, of Nashville, was in town the first part of the week.

Miss Belle Galtier, of Montgomery, paid a brief visit to the city last week.

Mr. Fred McCarroll has taken a position in the store of Merrill & Dalary.

Mr. T. D. Roberts leaves next week for Texas to embark in the bed spring business.

Col. R. H. Short and wife, of New Orleans, are visiting the family of Mr. J. C. Woodruff.

Mr. Joel D. McPherson, of Uniontown, was called home last week by the death of his brother.

Miss Mattie Dennis, of Montgomery county, Tenn., matriculated at Bethel Female College last week.

Miss Maule Jemph who is teaching school in Todd county, came home last Friday, and staid a couple of days.

Bryan Hopper made his usual trip to the Southern part of the county last Sunday, despite the pluvial weather.

Messrs. R. H. Rawlins, Willis Perry and H. A. Baker left yesterday for South Carolina to go into the bed spring business.

Miss Bertha Langstroth has returned from an extended visit to Iowa county, Ohio and will spend the winter in this city.

Mr. F. A. C. Myrick represented the Knights of Pythias Lodge at this place, in the meeting of the Grand Lodge at Louisville, last week.

Mr. Wm. Singleton of Lexington is here for the purpose of selling bed spring rights in the remaining counties in Kentucky.

Mr. Thos. Atkinson, the gentlemanly agent for the sale of the bed spring State rights, who has been here for some time, left yesterday for Indiana, having sold several States while here.

Miss Annie Mearns, a bewitching and accomplished beauty, of Memphis, Tenn., was in the city Saturday. She is visiting Miss Lizzie Layne in the Fairview neighborhood.

THEATRE.

The Twin Bed Spring business is now believed to be a Republican trick (?) to carry this county in November. Already about one hundred young men, Democrats to a unit, have been induced to leave the county and go into other States to sell these Springs. It is charged that the Republicans hope to induce, by three or four hundred Democrats in some county to leave the State or move into other counties, where their votes will be forfeited, making a difference of 30,000 or 40,000 votes, and thus carry the State for Garfield (?) We have had a special detective at work on this matter and have happily been able to thwart it in time. It is a desperate effort of the Republicans, but it will not work (?) shall it?

Since writing the above item last week, we have investigated the matter further and discovered that the whole affair is a Republican plot. Mr. Thos. Atkinson, of Richmond, Ind., an emissary of the Republican party has been for several months stopping at the Central Hotel in this city. He has induced numbers of voters of the county to leave for Texas, Virginia, South Carolina, Arkansas, Colorado, and other States to sell Twin Bed Springs. All of these men are Democrats, and of course they will not be allowed to vote in November. The plan was to sell territory all over the United States and take enough voters out of Kentucky to carry the State for Garfield. We got an inkling of the matter some weeks since, and have been carefully working it up.

Last week when we made known the result of our investigation, the revelation fell like a thunderbolt upon Atkinson, who at once began to make preparations to leave the city. He left yesterday and many of those who are going in to the bed spring business to make their fortunes will not take their leave till after the election. Although the State may still be safely claimed for Hancock, enough voters have already been induced to leave the county to make it give Garfield a majority. There is no telling where this thing would have ended, but for our vigilance. Atkinson was persuading numbers to leave every week and when his game was exposed he first endeavored to bribe us to silence and failing in this fled the city.

Hon Jno. W. Stevenson.

Ex-Senator, Jno. W. Stevenson will deliver an address before the Hancock Club to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Gov. Stevenson is one of the ablest men of the day, and presided over the National Convention at Cincinnati, in June. Every man in the county should hear his speech. Come out everybody and hear Kentucky's ablest statesman.

HERE AND THERE.

Last week was one of weddings and other amusements.

The Teacher's Institute was in session several days last week.

Reminiscer Gov. Stevenson's appointment to-morrow evening.

Mr. J. T. Savage has bought the privilege of furnishing refreshments at the Fair.

Dr. R. R. Bourne will move this week to his new office over the Bank of Hopkinsville.

A brakeman named Bennett fell dead on the train Saturday night at Sebree city, of heart disease.

Judge C. W. Cook, Greenback candidate for Congress, will speak at the Court House to-night.

The Bank of Hopkinsville has been moved to its new building on the corner of Main and Russellville streets.

Tickets are going like hot cakes. We will employ several extra clerks this week and next to write receipts.

Mr. J. E. Claborn was married on the 22nd inst., to Mrs. M. A. Anderson of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Tate.

Movers continue to pass through the city every day westward bound. No less than twenty-five or thirty wagons passed through last week.

Our premiums are now on exhibition at the business houses of the gentlemen from whom they were purchased. Call and see them.

The corner stone of the colored Methodist church was laid Saturday with imposing ceremonies. A dinner was given at the Court-house and a festival at night to assist in raising money.

Chas. King caught a loose horse in the road and rode it beyond Fairview intending, as he said, to turn it back after testing the ride, but was caught on the horse and is in jail for stealing.

Young men and old, make no mistake but call early and examine the latest, best and cheapest line of fall and winter goods at J. S. Chastain, agent for Jacob Reed & Sons, Philadelphia, Pa.

The rumor on the streets last Monday, that both of Mr. J. C. Evans' little children had died, turned out to be incorrect. The little girl was very low but survived and is now recovering.

The Globe Comedy Company will be at Mozart Hall next week every night. It is well spoken of by the press where it has been. The week's entertainment will begin with "Pique Monday night."

The Medical society of this county met last Monday in the Court House and engaged in the discussion of the antiseptic properties of belladonna. Dr. B. F. Willis who had been appointed to read an essay on the subject was absent and he was allowed further time. The regular meetings will continue to be held the third Monday in each month, and it is probable that instead of holding all of them here that some of them will be held at the smaller towns in the county. The annual election of officers was held and the following ones chosen: Dr. Jno. L. Duffin, President; Dr. J. F. Chas. Vice President; Dr. B. F. Eager, Secretary; Dr. F. H. Clarke, Treasurer and Librarian.

AMUSEMENTS.

Calloway's Minstrels gave a performance at Mozart Hall Wednesday night to a tolerably good audience.

The Berger's at Mozart Hall Thursday night, gave one of the most refined and enjoyable entertainments of the season. The music was of a high order and was a rare treat to all who heard it. Mr. Chas. Duncan, in his comic songs was loudly cheered after each act. Mr. Chas. Browner's ventriloquist performance was highly entertaining and laughable. In fact, the entertainment was one of the best of the season and gave universal satisfaction. If they should come this way again they will be sure to have a good house.

The Davy Crockett Combination exhibited Friday and Saturday nights at Mozart Hall. The play is one of much interest when well rendered. Mr. Tauchell as Davy Crockett did quite well but his support was not good. However the entertainment was one of the best of the season and many who saw it the first night went back the second. The house was very good Friday night but small the next.

Greenback Speaking.

Judge C. W. Cook, National Greenback candidate for Congress will address the people of Christian county, Ky., at the following time and places, Hopkinsville, Tuesday Sept. 28, at 7 1/2 o'clock p. m.; Fairview, Wednesday Sept. 29, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Pembroke, Thursday Sept. 30, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Louisville, Friday Oct. 1, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Garrettsburg, Saturday Oct. 2, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Hopkinsville, Monday Oct. 4, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Lanesville, Tuesday Oct. 5, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Clark's Store, Monday Oct. 11, at 1 o'clock p. m.; Pool's Mill, Tuesday Oct. 12, at 1 o'clock p. m.; McKnight's Mill, Wednesday Oct. 13, at 1 o'clock p. m.

The Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie is respectfully invited to be present at the above named places with whom Judge Cook will divide time.

A dating mother inhaled her preserves, "Put up by Mrs. D." Her son ate them, and wrote on the labels, "Put down by Johnny D."

Hancock Club.

The executive committee of the Hopkinsville Hancock and English Club requests the members of the Club, to meet at the Court House in Hopkinsville, on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, 1890, at 3 o'clock p. m. Hon. John W. Stevenson will address the Club upon the political issues of the day.

Everybody is invited to be present, the ladies especially.

L. M. Bue, Chairman.

Jno. W. Payne, Secy.

West Mt. 23ar.

News is so scarce in this section that your half column notice cannot possibly afford us this week.

The debate at this place last Saturday night between J. W. Armstrong and L. T. Filipo on the subject of Woman's Rights was a very interesting one to all present; no decision was given as to who produced the best arguments.

Miss Laura Newcomb, of Hopkinsville is visiting relatives near here.

Davy McCord is the boss bass singer in this town.

Boy and Will are securing the woods in quest of game. Boys if you meet them keep a tight grip on your chewing tobacco.

Rev. J. W. Spurlin will preach at this place next Sunday.

A protracted meeting will be begun at East Mt. Zion soon, and will be conducted by Rev. J. C. Porter and others.

Prof. L. A. Halls of this place spent a few days in your city, the meeting of the teacher's institute having called him there. We are glad to learn that a debating club has been organized at Brick Church. We hope to hear some of its members display their eloquence soon.

The South Kentuckian is rapidly growing in circulation in this vicinity. Mr. John Barnett, our postmaster at Kellytown is that the number of Kentuckians coming to that office is triple that of any other paper.

And now we respectfully reach for the brim of our old straw hat.

Trade Water.

I hope you will be willing to receive one temible correspondent among so many. I am sure you will not have the privilege of corresponding to your pleasant paper, yet I fear your gentlemanly correspondents will think me too rash, as lady correspondents are seldom if at all known in your columns. But to those who would speak of me, Honi soit qui mal y pense.

Perhaps I had better tell where I live lest some young man might chance to steer his course thitherward. I was born upon the flowery banks of that fond, pure stream which flows beneath the gallies blue and which is liked by none save those that are naturalized to it from youth, though the sparkling sunlit days of childhood to the river years of maturity. The name of this memorable stream is Trade Water. There are some of your correspondents that can appreciate the fondness for this sacred stream that I can except I trust; he knows the bliss of a Trade Water life.

Let this short narrative to my introductory to your paper and correspondence. And by your leave hereafter I would like to expose to the world my trials and troubles in love and courtship with Cyrus, my old and never forgotten suitor. I now found me as I once was and I still am.

MARY A. ELLEN.

LEYTONSVILLE.

Farmers in this vicinity are busy cutting and housing a very inferior crop of tobacco.

Corn, as a general thing, is very good for this section.

The Sorghum crop is not making many gallons of molasses per acre. Many are disappointed in this crop.

The sale of Robt. Berry, deceased, took place at the late residence here last night. Household and kitchen furniture brought extra prices. There was very little stock sold. Hogs about $6.50 per hundred gross; old corn $1.50 per barrel new corn in the field $1.25 per barrel.

Mr. Andrew and Miss Annie Petty were married on the 7th, at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. S. R. Brewer, of Hopkinsville. Attendants, Mr. L. Buckner and Miss Sallie Saunders; Mr. Burk Morrill and Miss Sarah Hall; Mr. George Hooser, of Todd; and Miss Lulu Sanders. Mr. Sands was a society companion and caused an aching void in the hearts of several we know. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom were taken to the residence of the bride's father, where a reception given them to the music of the band. Justice on paper is a hard task. To be properly appreciated it must be seen and felt; no thoughts that words would express of the happiness enjoyed by all. We wish the newly wedded couple a long life of happiness and prosperity and hope that the stars of fortune will shed its most brilliant rays upon them, illuminating and vivifying their hearts as the Sands escape from the hour glass of time.

There is a good deal of sickness in the neighborhood at this time, mostly of a malarial character.

Our Constable is very sick and not expected to live.

Mr. James Wilkins died a short time ago, aged 23 years. His death was quite unexpected to his many friends. He was kind, generous and considerate. Death lies on his life like an undimly frost, but we must remember "Whom the Gods love die young."

Mr. Burk Morrill had his mule and saddle stolen from him the night of the circus in Hopkinsville. Mr. Geo. Elgin also lost his saddle the same night.

Mr. J. Fruit has built an addition to his store room.

Capt. Sam Fruit gave a party Thursday in honor of Miss Belle Fruit, of Henderson, who is visiting her relatives in this section.

Mr. B. B. Knox is visiting friends in the neighborhood.

"Buckskin Joe" and troupe showed at this place on the evening of the 21st, which interested the children very much.

TEDIA.

McCarroll-Holloway.

Judge Jno. McCarroll, of this city, was married in Henderson on the 23d, to Miss Mary Holloway, at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Laura Holloway. The Reporter, in speaking of the wedding, says:

The company was composed of the relatives and immediate friends of the bride's family and a few who accompanied the Judge from Hopkinsville. The bride was elegantly attired in a traveling dress and hat, brown skirt, overdress of brown and cream colored hair. The bridegroom wore Messrs. Mary Branstator, of Owensboro, and Mary McCarroll, of Hopkinsville. The groomsmen were Messrs. Ham. Holloway, brother of the bride, and Charles Knight, of Hopkinsville. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Needham, assisted by Rev. Dennis Spurlin, of this city. The wedding presents were many, and of great beauty and value. The wedding breakfast of elegance of arrangement and exquisite taste was served, and showed a delicate and lovely handwork of the ladies who had the management. Immediately after breakfast the wedding party bid good-bye to their friends and came to the city. The bride and groom took the 11 o'clock train for Louisville.

The Judge's many friends in this city unite in offering their congratulations and wishing him a bright future.

For The South Kentuckian.

In Memoriam.

Miss Tommie Wade, daughter of H. B. Wade, agent at this place, died of congestion of the brain at Hopkinsville, Ky., after a very brief illness, Sept. 18th 1890.

She had for two years previous been a student in Logan Female College, at Russellville, where her social, moral and intellectual attainments were developed to a marked degree.

Just four years ago to-day, her dear mother was laid away to rest in the silent city of the dead, and she doubtless, since then has been "waiting and watching at the beautiful gate," for her beloved ones to come up and join her in her blessed abode.

The angels of light, and to-day while her bereaved father, and affectionate brother, and her dearly beloved little sister Jesse, mingle their tears of sadness and sorrow, they may, with confidence, look up, in hope of one day joining her in awaiting the shores of redemption that echo along the vaulted dome and starry archways of the celestial city, where rises the Jasper walls that mark the outlines of the New Jerusalem, and where the gates of pearl are ready to white open, welcoming whosoever they desire to enter.
